Helen Ayres is a Doctoral graduate from the University of Melbourne where she studied with Mark Mogilevsky and completed a special study into the music of the Romanian violinist and composer George Enescu. Helen has previously held a full-time position with the Melbourne Symphony Orchestra, is violinist with the Seraphim Trio and holds teaching positions at the University of Melbourne and Queens College, where she is Director of Music.

Cellist Josephine Vains was born in Melbourne. After winning the National Chamber Music Competition with Trio 3.0.3 she worked and studied in Europe for five years with Hatto Beyerle, Walter Levin and Tilmann Wick. She has performed as soloist and chamber musician throughout Australia, Asia and Europe on diverse projects including piano trio, quartet, contemporary and electronic music, and Argentine tango music.

Born in Adelaide to Hungarian and Dutch parents, Jules Cseszko obtained a Bachelor degree in Music Performance on the Viola and as a young man made his conducting debut at the Adelaide Town Hall. Jules has furthered his conducting studies at the University of Melbourne under John Hopkins, and is currently conductor of the Frankston Symphony. He has also directed numerous other Victorian university and community orchestras.
