Zelman Symphony is honoured to feature Geoffrey Payne, Principal Trumpet of the Melbourne Symphony Orchestra, in Haydn's famous Trumpet Concerto. Geoffrey Payne has been a member of the Melbourne Symphony Orchestra since 1979 and has held the position of Principal Trumpet since 1986. Geoffrey's interest in brass playing developed when he attended rehearsals and performances with his father who played tuba in a brass band. It was not long before he himself was playing cornet. At the age of 12, Geoffrey swapped the cornet for the trumpet and was awarded a scholarship to Sydney Conservatorium of Music where he gained his Performer's Diploma.

In 1976, he received a scholarship to join the ABC Training Orchestra and, in the same year, was appointed to the trumpet section of the Sydney Symphony Orchestra. Three years later he joined the MSO.

As a soloist he has performed with the Melbourne, Adelaide, West Australian and Tasmanian Symphony Orchestras as well as the Sydney Symphony. He regularly performs with Hiroyuki Iwaki's Orchestra Ensemble Kanazawa in Japan and his recordings include three CDs with the Melbourne Symphony Orchestra, Trumpet Magic, Great Trumpet Concertos and Bel Canto Trumpet.

Harry Sdraulig is the sixth Zelman Symphony/Melbourne University Emerging Composer. His music is characterised by a tonal but richly chromatic harmonic language, his individual style is highly melodic and makes frequent use of fluid contrapuntal textures and colours.

His new work, entitled Sinfonietta, will have its premiere at these concerts.
