Hoang Pham was born in Vietnam and moved to Australia with his parents at an early age. He studied privately in Melbourne with Rita Reichman and at the Australian National Academy of Music, and in New York at the Manhattan School of Music of which he is a graduate with both a Bachelor and Master of Music Degree.

Hoang was the winner of the 2013 ABC Symphony Australia Young Performers' Award, has been a prize winner of the Bösendorfer Piano Competition and the Cleveland International Piano Competition in the USA, and won the 2005 Lev Vlassenko Piano Competition in Brisbane and the 2010 inaugural Melbourne Recital Centre's Great Romantics Competition. At the 2008

Sydney International Piano Competition he was awarded Best Australian pianist.

In Australia, Hoang is regularly engaged by the leading recital series and festival programs including, during 2013 making his debut at Musica Viva's Huntington Estate Festival. He has appeared as concerto soloist with the Melbourne, Queensland and Tasmanian symphony orchestras, with the Melbourne Chamber Orchestra and with the New London Orchestra in the UK.
